Status of Certification Services

On November 28, 1995, the Office published an Official Gazette Notice entitled "Temporary Suspension of At Cost Services for Orders for Certified Copies" (1180 OG 121) to advise practitioners and the public of delays in filling orders for certified copies of PTO documents. This is an update of actual days to mail for orders filled during the month of August 1997:

Certified Product	Goal	Actual Calendar Days to Mail
Patent Application-As-Filed, Expedited	7	6
Patent Application-As-Filed, Regular	17	16
Patent Related File Wrapper	25	36*
Patent Copy	10	5
Patent Assignments	10	5
Trademark Application-As-Filed, Expedited	7	3
Trademark Application-As-Filed, Regular	17	8
Trademark Related File Wrapper	25	12
Trademark Assignments	10	6
Trademark Registration, Expedited	5	3
Trademark Registration, Regular	14	7

* Includes turnaround times for files on official search and file reconstruction.

Due to varying availability of media, customers will not be advised when orders are not delivered within the published goal periods. However, customers will be advised if any unexpected delay in their order has been identified. Customers should use the above actual days to mail for each product as a guide as to when they can expect their orders. In determining expected delivery times, the day an order is received in the Office is calculated as "day zero." The next business day is "day one."

Delivery of any specific copy will vary based on the availability of scanned images, microfilm products, and/or file accessibility. On June 10, 1997, the Office published an Official Gazette Notice entitled "Changes in Practice in Supplying Certified Copies and Filing Receipts" (1199 OG 39) which advised customers who placed orders for certified copies of patent applications-as-filed not to request them until the official filing receipt is received; images and related bibliographic data are not available to Certification Division until the filing receipt is generated by the Office of Initial Patent Examination.
Customers are encouraged to fax orders for copies directly to Certification Division at (703) 308-9759 and to pay by PTO Deposit Account, MasterCard, or Visa. Information on the status of pending orders may be obtained by calling (703) 308-9726 or 1 (800) 972-6382 (outside the Washington, DC Metro area), or via E-mail: certdiv@uspto.gov.

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.

Action: Notice of Hearing and Request for Public Comments.

Summary: Recent decisions by the United States Supreme Court and the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit highlight the crucial role a prosecution history plays in determining the validity and scope of a patent. See, e.g., Warner-Jenkinson Co. v. Hilton Davis Chem. Co., 117 S. Ct. 1040, 41 USPQ2d 1865 (1997); Markman v. Westview Instruments, 52 F.3d 967, 34 USPQ2d 1321 (Fed. Cir. 1995), aff'd 116 S. I. Background

The official record detailing the prosecution of a patent application in the United States Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is more than just a historical record. During the life of a patent, the prosecution record defines the scope of the claimed invention and the patent owner's rights. Thus, the written record must clearly explain the rationale for decisions made during the examination of a patent application, including the basis for the grant. Moreover, once a patent has been granted, the official record will be closely scrutinized by potential licensees, competitors who must avoid infringing the claimed invention, or even those attempting to invalidate the patent. In the event of litigation, the record will serve as a primary basis for court determinations of issues regarding the validity or scope of the patent.

The written record created during the prosecution of a patent application, commonly referred to as the "file wrapper" or "file history," consists of all correspondence between an applicant and the PTO. The file history typically consists of the patent application as originally filed, the cited prior art, all papers prepared by the examiner during the course of examination, and documents submitted by the applicant in response to the various requirements, objections, and rejections made by the examiner. In addition, the file history should contain a written record of all oral communications addressing patentability issues between the examiner and applicant. Examiners and applicants share the responsibility for the clarity, accuracy, and completeness of the file wrapper.

Recent decisions by the United States Supreme Court and the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit emphasize the importance of clear and complete prosecution histories in that they will look more closely at and place greater weight on patent prosecution histories. See, e.g., Warner-Jenkinson Co. v. Hilton Davis Chem. Co., 117 S. Ct. 1040, 41 USPQ2d 1865 (1997); Markman v. Westview Instruments, 52 F.3d 967, 34 USPQ2d 1321 (Fed. Cir. 1995), aff'd, 116 S. Ct.1384, 38 USPQ2d 1461 (1996); Vitronics Corp. v. Conceptronic Inc., 90 F.3d 1576, 39 USPQ2d 1573 (Fed. Cir. 1996). For example, in Warner-Jenkinson, the Supreme Court explained the importance of the prosecution history of a patent in determining infringement under the doctrine of equivalents. 117 S. Ct. at 1049-51, 41 USPQ2d at 1871-73. Specifically, the Court acknowledged that when the prosecution history reveals that a patent owner amended the claims by adding limitations to overcome the prior art, the patent owner will be estopped from alleging infringement under the doctrine of equivalents as to that amended limitation. Id. at 1051, 41 USPQ2d at 1873. Subsequently, the Court held:

> Mindful that claims do indeed serve both a definitional and a notice function, we think the better rule is to place the burden on the patentholder to establish the reason for an amendment required during patent prosecution .... Where no explanation is established, however, the court should presume that the PTO had a substantial reason related to patentability for including the limiting element added by amendment.

Id. The emphasis on the written record, including the prosecution history, to interpret the claims is further illustrated by the Markman and Vitronics decisions. In Markman, the Federal Circuit held claim interpretation is a question of law to be determined by the court based on three sources: the claims, the specification, and the prosecution history. 52 F.3d at 979, 34 USPQ2d at 1329. Along the same lines, the Federal Circuit in Vitronics opined that intrinsic evidence, which includes the claims, the specification, and the prosecution history, is the "most significant source" of evidence to be used when interpreting claims. 90 F.3d at 1582, 39 USPQ2d at 1576. In explaining that the claims, the specification, and the prosecution history make up the "public record" upon which the public is entitled to rely, the Federal Circuit stated:

> [T]he [prosecution] history contains the complete record of all the proceedings before the Patent and Trademark Office, including any express representations made by the applicant regarding the scope of the claims. As such, the record before the Patent and Trademark Office is often of critical significance in determining the meaning of the claims.

90 F.3d at 1582, 39 USPQ2d at 1577. The Federal Circuit held that when the public record "unambiguously describes the scope of the patented invention," reliance on extrinsic evidence such as expert testimony is improper. 90 F.3d at 1583, 39 USPQ2d at 1477.

The PTO imposes written recording requirements on both the examiner and applicant. These requirements are designed to furnish the patent applicant, as well as the public and the courts, with sufficient information to make informed decisions. As the agency charged with granting valid patents, the PTO is actively concerned with the development of clear and complete prosecution histories. For this reason, the PTO is interested in obtaining public opinion as to whether the current rules and procedures pertaining to recording prosecution histories are sufficient to provide complete and clear records.

II. Issues for Public Comment

Interested members of the public are invited to testify and present written comments on issues they believe to be relevant to the discussion below. Questions following the discussion are included to identify specific issues upon which the PTO is interested in obtaining public opinion.

A. Current Procedures for Recording Patent Prosecution Histories

The emphasis on preparing complete, clear, and accurate file histories is prevalent throughout the patent rules which form title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations (C.F.R.) and the guidelines of practice embodied in the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure (M.P.E.P.). Recognizing the importance of the written prosecution record, PTO rules and procedures stress the need for examiners to communicate clearly the basis for all rejections and objections so that the issues can be identified early and the applicant can be given an opportunity to respond. See 37 C.F.R. 1.105 (1996); M.P.E.P. 707.07 (6th ed. 1995, rev. 2, July 1996). To meet this goal, Rule 105 explicitly states that "[t]he examiner's action will be complete as to all matters." 37 C.F.R. 1.105. This requires the examiner to treat all claims on their merits, provide authority and support for each ground of rejection, and respond to all arguments and points raised by applicants.

The M.P.E.P. instructs examiners to provide clear and complete Office actions throughout the examination process. For instance, when making rejections such as lack of an adequate written description, the examiner's position should be fully developed and contain detailed reasons rather than a mere conclusion. See M.P.E.P. 706.03 (6th ed. 1995, rev. 2, July 1996). Moreover, upon entering an obviousness rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103, the examiner should set forth in the Office action the relevant teachings of the prior art relied upon, the differences between the claimed invention and the applied references, and an explanation as to why the claimed invention would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art. M.P.E.P. 706.02(j) (6th ed. 1995, rev. 2, July 1996). Furthermore, in making a final rejection, all outstanding grounds of rejection should be fully developed and clearly set forth to the extent that the remaining issues are readily apparent. M.P.E.P. 706.07 (6th ed.. 1995, rev. 2, July 1996).

Concurrent with the examiner's duty to provide clear and fully developed Office actions, Rule 111 mandates an applicant's response to be complete in order to promote an early and full determination of the issues. 37 C.F.R. 1.111 (1996). Current procedure requires that the response by the patent applicant "must distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the examiner's action and must respond to every ground of objection and rejection in the prior Office action." 37 C.F.R. 1.111. Moreover, the requirements of Rule 111 dictate that applicants clearly point out the patentable novelty believed to render the subject claims allowable over the referenced teachings. 37 C.F.R. 1.111. See M.P.E.P. 714.02 (6th ed. 1995, rev. 2, July 1996). Furthermore, to ensure a clear and complete file record, examiners are given the authority to require correction if a response is not complete. See M.P.E.P. 714.03 (6th ed. 1995, rev. 2, July 1996). In limited situations, an examiner is authorized to make changes directly to the written portions of the filed application to correct obvious errors such as spelling and minor grammatical errors. M.P.E.P. 1302.04 (6th ed. 1995, rev. 2, July 1996). Other obvious informalities such as changes to the abstract may be corrected by a formal examiner's amendment which is placed in the file wrapper and a copy is mailed to applicants. Id. Amendment or cancellation of claims by formal examiner's amendment is permitted when passing an application to issue provided that the changes have been authorized by applicant or applicant's representative. Id.

A complete prosecution history should clearly reflect the reasons why the patent application was allowed. According to Rule 109, an examiner may set forth reasons for allowance when the record, as a whole, is unclear as to why the application is allowable over the prior art. 37 C.F.R. 1. 109 (1996). Thus, the examiner must make a judgment of the record to determine whether reasons for allowance should be set out in that record. However, the M.P.E.P. cautions examiners to exercise great care in recording reasons for allowance so as not to misconstrue the claims. M.P.E.P. 1302.14 (6th ed. 1995, rev. 2, July 1996). If desired, an applicant may comment on an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance. Although an applicant's comments are entered in the application file, they will not be commented upon by the examiner in charge of the application. See id.

Another facet of patent prosecution in which written records are extremely important is the recordation of interviews conducted between examiners and applicants. Examiner interviews concerning patent applications and other matters pending before the PTO serve to clarify the issues in an application and materially advance the prosecution of a case. The substance of an interview must be made of record in the application by means of an Interview Summary Form completed by the examiner and placed in the file wrapper. M.P.E.P. 713.04 (6th ed. 1995, rev. 2, July 1996). In addition, a complete written statement disclosing the substance presented at the interview must be filed by the applicant when reconsideration is requested in view of an interview with an examiner. 37 C.F.R. 1.133 (b) (1996). However, the examiner and applicant can agree that the Interview Summary Form satisfies applicant's obligation under Rule 133. M.P.E.P. 713.04.

A complete and accurate recordation of the substance of an examiner interview should include the following: an identification of the claims and prior art discussed; a description of proposed amendments; the general thrust of the applicant's and examiner's arguments; and the results of the interview. Id. Although the recordation of the arguments presented at the interview need not be lengthy or highly detailed, the general nature of the principal arguments should be readily apparent. Id.

The PTO is interested in ensuring that complete and accurate file histories are created and maintained. Public comments are invited to assist the PTO in identifying any improvements that can be made to increase the clarity and completeness of prosecution histories. The tenor of the following questions should not be taken as an indication that the PTO has taken a position on or is predisposed to any particular approach to creating and maintaining complete and clear file histories.

1. Do you believe that the current rules and procedures pertinent to recording prosecution histories are sufficiently clear and effective? If not, please:

(a) identify aspects of the rules and procedures that you believe lack clarity or do not facilitate the creation of adequate records;

(b) identify any changes to the rules and procedures that you believe would improve the clarity and completeness of file histories; and

(c) discuss potential advantages and hardships that patent applicants and examiners would face if particular changes were adopted.

2. Do you believe that examiners are correctly and uniformly applying the existing rules and procedures governing the recording of file histories? If not, please:

(a) provide or summarize examples in which you believe examiners have not maintained complete file histories;

(b) identify additional steps that can be taken by the PTO and applicants to clarify the prosecution history; and

(c) discuss possible advantages and drawbacks to the proposed changes.

3. Do examiners generally notify applicants when an amendment fails to point out the patentable novelty of applicant's invention, as required by 37 C.F.R. 1.111? If so, do you believe that examiners should continue to notify applicants of their failure to include a statement of novelty?

4. Is language such as "to further define and clarify the invention" sufficient to satisfy Rules 111 and 119 of 37 C.F.R. which require the applicant to point out how each amendment distinguishes the claims over the cited prior art? If not, please explain why applicants should be required to recite positively the rationale behind every claim amendment.

5. Should examiners be required to recite positively the reasons for amendments to claims when claims are amended by way of a formal examiner's amendment drafted pursuant to M.P.E.P. 1302.047 If so, do you believe this would discourage the practice of examiner amendments? Also, what effect would such a requirement have on the patent prosecution process?

6. Should the current practice of having examiners prepare reasons for allowance, as outlined in 37 C.F.R. 1.109, be discontinued? If so, please explain why you believe this is desirable. If not, should 37 C.F.R. 1.109 be amended to make it mandatory that reasons for allowance must be provided by the examiner? (Currently, according to 37 C.F.R. 109, setting forth reasons for allowance is not mandatory on the examiner's part.) If so, in which of the following instances should examiners be required to set forth reasons for allowance:

(a) in all allowable patent applications; or

(b) when the record, as a whole, is unclear as to why the patent application is being allowed.

7. Do reasons for allowance recorded by examiners contain accurate and precise interpretations regarding the novelty or nonobviousness of the claims? If not, please:

(a) explain the experiences you have had that led you to your conclusions; and

(b) identify what you believe should be included in or omitted from an examiner's reasons for allowance.

8. What would prompt an applicant to comment on an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance?

9. If an applicant disagrees with an examiner's reasons for allowance, should applicant be obligated to respond? If so, should applicant's failure to file a statement commenting on the examiner's reasons for allowance be deemed an admission that applicant acquiesces to the reasoning of the examiner? (Currently, pursuant to 37 C.F.R. 1.109, failure to comment on the reasons for allowance does not imply that the patent applicant agrees with the reasoning of the examiner.)

10. Is the current practice of placing applicant's comments to reasons for allowance in the application file without further comment by the examiner adequate? If not, how and why should the current practice be changed?

11. Does the present system of recording examiner interviews by means of interview summary records, as outlined in M.P.E.P. 713.04, provide a complete record of the substance of the interview? If not, please:

(a) explain the experiences you have had that have led you to your conclusions;

and

(b) describe additional changes to the interview summary practice you believe would be desirable.

12. Should applicants be obligated to record the substance of every examiner interview, regardless of whether reconsideration is sought?

Reference Collections of U.S. Patents and Trademarks
Available for Public Use in Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries (PTDLs), receive patent and trademark information from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. Many PTDLs have on file patents issued since 1790, trademarks published since 1872, and select collections of foreign patents. All PTDLs receive both the patent and trademark sections of the Official Gazette of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office and numerical sets of patents in a variety of formats. Patent and trademark search systems in the Cassis CD-ROM series are available at all PTDLs to increase access to that information. It is through the CD-ROM systems and other depository materials that preliminary patent and trademark searches may be conducted through the numerically arranged collections.

Each PTDL offers reference publications which outline and provide access to the patent and trademark classification systems, as well as other documents and publications which supplement the basic search tools. PTDLs provide technical staff assistance in using all materials.

All information is available for use by the public free of charge. However, there may be charges associated with the use of on-line systems, photocopying and related services.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent and trademark collections among the PTDLs, and their hours of service to the public vary, anyone contemplating use of these collections at a particular library is urged to contact that library in advance about its collections, services, and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

Partnership PTDLs provide enhanced and expanded services for which fees are charged. They offer on-line patent text and image searching, on-line trademark searching, and videoconferencing for examiner interviews and workshops. They accept disclosure documents on site, order file wrappers, assignment documents and certified copies for their customers, and host a variety of seminars aimed at specific audiences, including practitioners, paralegals, and independent inventors. Currently, partnerships are located at the Great Lakes Patent and Trademark Center (GLPTC) at the Detroit Public Library in Detroit, Michigan and the Sunnyvale Center for Innovation, Invention and Ideas (SCI^3) in Sunnyvale, California.

*A communication from the examiner should have been received in most applications filed prior to this date.

Patents will Expire as Follows:

(1) The term of any utility or plant patent that is in force on or results from an application filed before June 8, 1995 is the greater of the 20 year term provided in 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2) or 17 years from grant subject to any terminal disclaimers. 35 U.S.C. 154(c)(1).

(2) All utility and plant patents granted on applications having an actual United States filing date on or after June 8, 1995 are granted for a term which begins on the date on which the patent is granted and ends 20 years from the date on which the application was filed in the United States. If the application contains a specific reference to an earlier application under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121 or 365(c), the patent term ends twenty years from that date on which the earliest application was filed. 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2).

(3) All design patents are granted for a term of 14 years from the date of the grant.

However, the term of any patent may have been curtailed by disclaimer under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 153, have lapsed due to failure to pay maintenance fees, or have been extended under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 154, 155, or 156. Thus, if more reliable information is needed with respect to a particular patent, then the specific patent file should be reviewed to determine the actual date of patent expiration.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).
